Editor's Message

When we began this yearbook seven months ago, we were confronted with the task of putting out a better senior publication. Not only had we to meet with the precedents set by former classes, but also, we had to surpass them. Now those labors of so many weeks seem inconsequential in comparison to our gratifying sense of achievement.

Here and on the following pages are presented the fruits of our most creative efforts — our deepest and our lightest moments of cherished high school days. May this yearbook always be a souvenir of nostalgic memories in which has been captured a most important segment of our lives — the green years. We hope that you like your book for we have done our best.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

YOUR Part of "The Primary Responsibility"

From an editorial in the Saturday Evening Post of December 3, 1960, I quote, "If there is any remedy for disrespect for the law, dearth of moral values and absence of religious guidance, it appears that the family circle must assume the primary responsibility. A breakdown of values which is found in all sorts of environments constitutes a challenge to the church, the schools, business and the agencies of government. But the primary task is to restore among parents the acceptance of responsibility for the ethical training and control of their young."

This quotation pictures a general condition which is evident to all of us today. Where do you, the present student who will become a worker, a parent, or a member of the military service, stand in this situation, described as a crisis by many? Do you fully realize that you have responsibilities as well as rights? Do you know that there are no degrees of true honesty and real respect? Do you develop your talents?

Anything is valuable only when it increases one's mental or spiritual resources. Our scientific achievements have now placed us in the definite position of needing a strong revival of spiritual values in order to insure our survival—the need for each individual to self-discipline himself is imperative. All parents need to exercise discipline with their children as a fundamental approach to teaching them self-discipline.

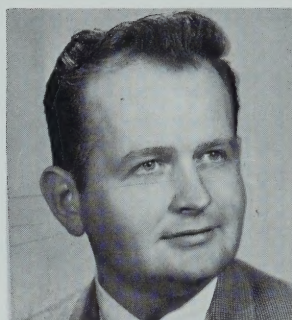

You may well become a parent in the future. Then yours is a challenge to accept "the primary responsibility." If you have not been previously trained in this direction, you will not be ready to accept this most important obligation. Good daily habits and routines must be developed by you and for you.

Parents are now facing and will ever continue to face this duty with their children. You, the son or daughter, should realize it is necessary that you give your parents complete cooperation in this matter. In fact, your future happiness and success hinge upon a steady growth of mutual respects, obediences, and family activities.

Will Durant, distinguished author, philosopher, and historian, once listed ten wise rules for his own three grandchildren. In closing this message, I quote two of his rules. "Enter into the life of the family and the community with good cheer; make little of your troubles and much of your good fortune." "You will find in the Golden Rule the simplest and surest secret of happiness."

I sincerely hope you will consider the importance of this message and more important will do something about it. Take action now and continue that action.

Good luck in your picture making

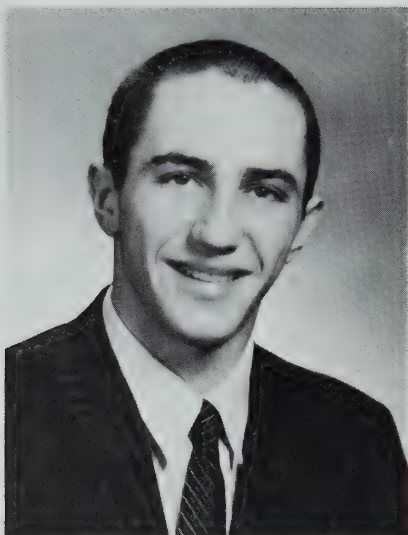

With honor, affection, and esteem, we, the Class of 1961, proudly dedicate the "Green Years" to Mr. Otto Contardi — who, throughout our quadrennial at Abington High School, has been an especially personal friend and guide. His assistance, his thoughtfulness, and his ever present sense of humor has made him the one student advisor most deserving of our appreciation.

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

In the fall of 1957 A.H.S. was honored with the appearance of the illustrious, never-to-be-forgotten Class of 1961. It was the year of double sessions, of late sleeping and of walking home in the dark. To lead us through this first year we elected to our Advisory Council, Jim Ashton, Sharon Anderson, Vin Nero, Colette O'Brien and Janet Robinson.

No one will ever forget Latin I and Mr. Parsons' dogs or the windows wide open in the dead of winter. Nor will we forget Ancient History classes with Mr. Contardi, and his real neat clothes and wild stories about the Marines.

The Freshmen Football Team, which played on Saturday mornings, gave us an undefeated season and a look at some of the terrific football players our class would produce.

On a snowy, cold February night we held our Freshmen Frolic. This was not a big flop like most Frolics but it netted the grand total of $48 for the class treasury.

Our class outing was held at Morton's Park and everyone had a ball. Dick Sheedy and Norm MacDonald tried to dive into two feet of water and Alby Corliss was thrown in by the whole class.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Upon our return to school from summer vacation, we chose a fine, up-standing group of officers with Jim Ashton, president; Roy Gowell, vice-president; Al Corliss, secretary; and Vin Nero, treasurer.

This year we had the pleasure of having Mr. Michel. This French I teacher was a man from the back hills of West Virginia who when angry would mutter French with a Southern drawl under his breath. Not that he had any reason to be upset.

This year Mr. Gregory's Science Fair was voluntary and our eminent class added to its achievements by having Dave Frame win a third grand prize and Debby Spencer donating her project to Bridgewater State Teachers College.

The Sophomore Hop, decorated with Marilyn's rocketship, took place in February with two D.J.'s from WMEX, Don Parker and Melvin "Boy Idiot" Miller. Mr. Divoll had to beg for a lower price so we could pay them without going too far into debt.

As summer approached we held our annual outing at Morton's Park. Even though there weren't enough kids to pay for the bus, everyone had a good time — and what was Arthur's strange pennant, Marilyn?

JUNIOR YEAR

In September 1959, we entered A.H.S. as sophisticated, powerful, and respected Juniors. This was the first year of campaigning for class officers and Little Caesar got all our votes by handing out dollar bills. For the third straight year we elected a spectacular group of officers consisting of Roy Gowell, president; Jim Ashton, vice-president; Tashy Calway, secretary; and Vin Nero, treasurer.

The big thing this year in the way of classes was Mrs. Foote's co-operative English classes, with John Stephenson being teacher's pet.

This was the year of many parties among the best remembered are Colette's hen parties, Rosie's Christmas party, and Di Drake's P.J. parties at 3 A.M. at the laundromat.

This year many things happened around the school. First the girls' hockey team flooded the locker room, then a turtle from King's Castle was found napping in the Boulevard, the warning system for smoking was perfected, and the baseball team consisting mostly of Juniors won the Old Colony League Championship.

Of course the biggest event of the year, which we all awaited impatiently for, was the Junior Prom. There was a big hassle over decorations, but finally "Moonlight in Roses" was the theme. Judy Sylvester was the beautiful queen and her lovely attendants were Janice Smith and Marilyn Gates.

After the prom we all went to Coral Gables in Weymouth to enjoy chicken or steak. Rides were taken to Nantasket in the fog where nobody met anyone else. Then there were the after prom parties at Collette's and Susan's. The next day while taking down the decorations three young ladies, Sue, Joan and Judy, fell asleep on the couch.

Once again for our class outing we went to Morton's Park. We were chased out by the police because of tornado warnings. And in the mad rush to avoid the police Bruce almost cracked up and Vinny hit Alby's car three times, but everyone returned in one piece.

SENIOR YEAR

At last, we the Class of 1961, became Supreme Seniors, and to guide us through this, our last and best year, we elected Al Corliss, Bill Moody, Tashy Calway, and Vin Nero as officers.

At the end of the summer some of the boys returned from New York and ghost chasing. This year found Room 23 with a new teacher who gives "quizzes" and passes out questionnaires to find out who your playmates are at recess and what your favorite kind of lollipop is.

This class is different in that it doesn't have many parties but when it does, they are big and a few examples are Debby's, Jackies, Gail's, and Rosemary's.

Many girls have received diamonds, thus showing there will be quite a few June brides.

Then one of the best plays a senior class has ever put on took place in February. After many weeks of rehearsals the "Life of the Party" directed by Mrs. Gleason went on and was a success. Even a bigger success was Maureen's after-the-play-party which ended with a Bang!

Finally our Winter Carnival, which had been postponed so many times, took place. But it still was plagued, the orchestra did not show up and after listening to "My Country 'Tis of Thee," a few of the boys went home and got some long-playing albums. When we returned to school Monday we learned the Mr. Earl Hannafin and his band would come sometime in May and play for nothing.

We are now looking forward to all our Senior Activities: The Banquet, The Reception, Commencement, and the innumerable other things associated with Graduation.

Although we, the Class of 1961, leave with sorrow and regret, it is with many fond backward glances at these years that we hopefully step forth in the world as proud graduates.

The fantabulously distinguished class of "61" is holding its tenth reunion at the sight of the old Abington High School, now being used for its original purpose, as a warehouse.

First to arrive in a nosed and decked customized bus is the famous basketball team "The Greasy Five" home from a world-wide tour. We can tell from the appearance of Bill Adamo, the Cousey of the quintet, that success hasn't changed them at all. Preparing for the onslaught of fans, Bill and the other members of the team Paul Reiss, Wayne Crosby, James Jordan, and Richard Jacob, sharpen their pencils in the anticipation of the many autographs they will have to sign.

Not far behind are Peggy MacDonald, Barbie Keith, and Edie Flanagan, famous home economists, coming early to prepare a sumptuous feast for tonight's banquet.

Simultaneously landing in their company's helicopters are James Rushwick, successful salesman for B. F. Goodrich, and Lawrence Malinowski, head food buyer for First National Stores.

The crowd is quickly gathering. To our left we see a group of secretaries. Lurane Beal, Michele Marley, Carol Banda, and Lois Benjamin, who have just driven up in a red convertible, are chatting over old times with Sandra Spinney, Sharon Swanson, Pat Blink, and Wendy Bowker, who seem to be well decked out in furs. We can tell that Larry Ludden, head scientist at M. I. T. and chairman of the alumni fund for scientific equipment at A. H. S. will soon visit these girls.

We hurry over to ask Sharon Anderson and Beverly Glencross about their commendation from our President Ted Kennedy for their fine interpretations during the Russian talks.

On the way we stop to congratulate Donnie Fontaine and Beverly Moore on their latest. Donnie too has an executive position with the First National.

Although Stephen Bean's orchestra has not yet arrived, a common occurrence at affairs held by our class, we have asked Barbara DiGiovanni, noted pianist, to play and a few of the couples have begun to dance. Up front in the spotlight we recognize Billy Cox, garageman supreme with Susan Stone, a busy little mother, and edging in are Billy Mello, owner of a basketball clinic for poor shots, with that singing sensation Marlene Mills.

In a corner we see two famous historians, John Carrier and Anthony Cotta heatedly discussing political theories. Although the argument sounds interesting we must hurry on to the big basketball game. The former members of the girls basketball team, Mary Murray, Janet Robinson, Doris White, Janice Smith, and Janice Olson, now all either married or successful career women have challenged the former members of the boys basketball team, that group of extremely successful but quite out of training businessmen consisting of James Ashton, Bruce Farquhar, Barry Eldridge, Paul Stimpson, and Donnie Miller to a game. The referees, Marcella Benoit, now teaching gym and writing novels and Jon Orthendahl, who informs us that Russ Hamblin, his co-owner in a mid-west dude ranch, will be unable to attend because of a previous singing engagement, have arrived and Bruce and Mary are set for the jump.

Oh-oh! Crawling through the crowd we see Vin Nero still trying to collect those back dues. We hear Billy Meeker, famed scientist, has invented a new powder guaranteed to make the worst dead beats pay up. And since we owe a few dollars, we hurry off before Vin has a chance to try out this new invention.

Jeff Melville, T.V. comedian noted for his button-down mind (and ears) and Harvey Wolcott, now pitching for the Boston Red Sox, seem to be trying to persuade Ken Payne, Tommy MacPhail, and George Glidden, used car dealers, to accompany them on a ghost hunt, but although Ken and Tommy like the idea, George cuts out on his motorcycle.

Further on we greet the "old married group" consisting of Linda Aberle, Joyce Ransom, Sue Lowe, and Paulene Bates who are avidly comparing notes on husbands and children.

Dave Frame, mild-mannered reporter for the Brockton Enterprise, gives us the run down on some of our former classmates.

Steve Fontaine, football coach for Bridgewater Teachers College, and Rosemary DiStefano, his beautiful brunette wife, are still on an inspection trip of the football system in Italy.

Richard White and, ahem, Cathleen Calway, now happily married, are busy in Las Vegas where Richie is a dealer.

Dave also tells us that David Burns, famous botanist, will not be present because he is on an expedition to Africa in search of new plant life.

PROPHECY

Dave confides that Arthur Funder and Richard Tingley now in the moving business, are on their latest job moving the Statue of Liberty from Bedloe's Island. We can remember when they got their start—moving turtles.

Leaving David we spy Robert Pratt and John Enright, now selling English Fords, driving up with three more successful secretaries — Jessie Dunbar, Sheila Kennedy and Roberta Jacob. Following right behind are Allison Grant and Bobby Johnson who is now a champion tennis player. Alison's husband has sent his brother along to keep an eye on her.

After greeting them we move on to meet Kenny Belcher, draftsman for a large firm, who tells us that Carl Franzen is in Europe searching for more coins to add to his world-famous collection.

Colette O'Brien and Pete Saulenas (Colette is Peter's medical secretary), stop to tell us that a tag team wrestling match has been set up between four world-renowned wrestlers. Richard Sheedy and Jimmy Bailey will oppose Bob McDonough and Bill Scott.

We ask Bernie Tautkus, who now owns a charter fishing boat in Florida, directions and hear about his latest catch.

On our way again we notice that the orchestra has been completed with the arrival of those two noted musicians Phil Ventre and Alice Sime. Bob Kelliher, our friendly oilman, has just brought them in his swift black and yellow "71" Olds.

At the matches we meet Nancy Dombrowski and Judith Porter whose husbands are co-owners in one of Abington's most prosperous farms and we hear Joanne Jordan, secretary for a publishing firm, telling Jeanette Rosen and Carol Mahoney, teachers at our new high school which has been ten years in the building, the value of a Webster's Dictionary in a student's education.

We see Bob Orcutt also a football coach, escorting two lovely models, Pat Douglas and Virginia Soper to their seats.

Skip Pulsifer and Marilyn Swart, now on the stage, join the crowd at ringside. They have recently returned from a tour with a company who presented "Romeo and Juliet" with Skip and Marilyn having the title roles.

We learn that Peter Richmond, John Stephenson and James Villa, dashing men about town, are on the prowl in their "Impala." Beware young ladies!

Leaving the matches we encounter three happily married girls Janet Smith, Beverly Theall, and Judy Shannahan, who tell us that they returned just to visit the dwelling of that world-famous mathematician S. W. Giglio.

We see Roy Gowell, M. D. and his patient George Fopiano, the careless carpenter, arrive with Roy's secretary Diana Drake and Joan Swedas, who figures out George's medical bills on her I. B. M. machine. Joan tells that Jed Kelley and David Connell having just docked their ships are around flying the pirate flag.—

We see Phil Cardarople the town's most productive agriculturist, John Grady, who has recently bought into Kal's and Walter Coakley, well known wit, with David Donovan. They have just parked Dave's new panel truck, one of his expanding fleet, in the parking lot.

Some of the crowd is gathering around a T. V. Here we find Diane Nash, celebrated artist and William Moody, a standout in the literary field, with his illustrator Sandy Moody. (No that's not his wife but they're in the same family). They are watching one of the hometown boys Richard Mosley appear on Jackpot Bowling. He's the best in the state you know.

Hearing a disturbance we turn to see Linda McLellan with a large pair of pinking shears from her dress shop, chasing Norm McDonald, who is now Vice-President of Reed Lumber. She only intends to trim his hair, but Judy Sylvester, Joyce Reogas, and Karen Dalton, three very capable nurses are standing by in case of a deep cut.

To avoid the danger, we move on to speak to Gail Ripley who has just merged her store with a local oil company.

We notice Rosalind Hyland, the big Hollywood star who owns over half of Block Island talking over her latest picture with her director Marilyn Gates, and Gail Coleman and Maureen Keenan, executives in opposing supermarkets who seem to have suspended their feud over the merits of their respective places of employment, for the time being anyway.

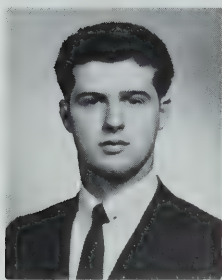

Seeing that the festivities are about to begin, we hasten over to make sure that Albert Corliss, Abington's Perry Mason, has brought everything he was supposed to. He seems to have all the games, trophies and speeches, but — oh no! not again? Where's Debby?

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-One, being more or less of sound body and comparatively sound mind, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament, bequeathing our most cherished accomplishments and possessions, garnered during the sometimes trying but always treasured quadrennial at A.H.S., to those all-deserving undergraduates and faculty members and do declare all other endowments set forth in our name null and void.

- Article I — To Miss Crooks we leave hopes of successful seasons in the future now that we have left.
- Article II — To Mrs. Oberg we leave Doris White who is always in Room 1 anyway.
- Article III — To Mrs. Rosen we leave Clair Blanchard and Jen Bickford as book-ends.
- Article IV — To Mrs. Ferguson we leave plenty of aspirins for her Senior Class headaches.
- Article V — To Mr. Gregory we leave a can of Drano for the sinks in the lab.
- Article VI — To Mr. Divoll we leave a dozen of eggs and best wishes on his book, the biography of the senior class.
- Article VII — To Mr. Contardi, who leaves to get married, our congratulations and best wishes.
- Article VIII — To Mr. Pike we leave a year's supply of censor signs.
- Article IX — To Mr. Dennis we leave longer lunch periods so he can finish his cigar and get to class on time.
- Article X — We leave Mr. MacFee strumming on his ukelele singing of his concepts and ideas.
- Article XI — To Mr. Pastuszak we leave best hopes for a good football team because hope is all we can have for the Sophomores and Juniors our great athletes left behind.
- Article XII — To Mr. Parsons we leave the thought that Latin can be fun, and so can marriage.
- Article XIII — To Mr. Giglio we leave a year's supply of answer books.
- Article XIV — To Mr. Binney we leave the Boys Choral Group because nobody else wants them.
- Article XV — To Mr. Harrison we leave a pair of suspenders so when he takes his belt off he doesn't have to hold his pants up.
- Article XVI — To Mr. Morey we leave a path guide to the Blue Hills.
- Article XVII — To the administration we leave Jimmy Rushwick and Richard Tingley, those models of perfect behavior, who spend most of their time in the office.
- Article XVIII — Jeff Melville leaves his title as "King of the Detention Hall" to Al Maki.
- Article XIX — Marilyn Gates leaves to all interested persons her book entitled "How to Be President of the Class Without Being Elected to Office."
- Article XX — Dave Burns leaves his turtle collection to Mr. Dubins.

- Article XXI — Bruce Farquhar leaves about two feet of height to Richie "Pint" Poitras.
- Article XXII — George Fopiano, Paul Stimpson, Jeff Melville, Art Funder, and Jimmy Rushwick leave their grass skirts from the minstrel show to native Hawaiians who will never equal their dancing.
- Article XXIII — Rosie Hyland leaves, to the relief of the janitors.
- Article XXIV — We leave John Stephenson to his multitudes of girls.
- Article XXV — The Shop Boys leave the Sophomores still doing the work.
- Article XXVI — The Tennis Team leaves with a good knowledge of how to jump over the net and congratulate the winners.
- Article XXVII — The Football Team leaves Debby Spencer's house destitute.
- Article XXVIII — The Basketball Team leaves a book titled "Why We Wanted to Go into the Tech Tourney."
- Article XXIX — We leave the baseball team flippers to use instead of cleats.
- Article XXX — The Girls Field Hockey Team leave the "Full Back Sneak" — it would have worked Miss Crooks.
- Article XXXI — The Cross Country Team has not returned yet so they cannot leave anything.
- Article XXXII — The Cheerleaders leave the advice that Co-Captains don't work.
- Article XXXIII — The Yearbook Staff leaves still writing and cutting out pictures.
- Article XXXIV — The Class Play leaves everyone sadder but wiser.
- Article XXXV — The Abhis leave late as usual.
- Article XXXVI — We leave the Junior Class with the realization that they will never be half as good as we are.
- Article XXXVII — We leave the Sophomore Class to two more wonderful years in Abington High's Cafeteria.
- Article XXXVIII — The Senior Class leaves with feelings of regret but with many fond memories.

In witness thereof, we have there unto subscribed our names and affixed our seal, this eighth day of June, in the year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-One.

PLANNING FOR COLLEGE?

Systematic Savings Makes It Definite!

THIS YOUNGSTER has a dozen or more years before he's ready for college. By that time systematic saving here will have assured his future. Mom and Dad can breathe a little easier knowing the fulfillment of an important savings goal. Saving for college makes it definite . . . that's the best way of saying it.

THANK YOU

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the sponsors and advertisers who have helped us finance the "Green Years." At the same time, we wish to suggest to our fellow classmates and to all our friends who read this book that they patronize the stores listed in our advertising section. Yearbook advertising may reach a more limited audience than newspaper advertising, nevertheless it is much more permanent and much more handsomely displayed, and it will be read through the years by all of us who cherish this souvenir of happy high school days.
